

Cleveland, Edmund J.

May 8, 1901

191 Sigourney street
Hartford Conn. May 8 1901

Messrs S. H. & H. Chapman,
Gentlemen:

Answering your postal I would say that while I desire to place an Assay 1901 in my small collection of assays I greatly prefer a silver one, and would be glad to hear your quotation for one of that kind. I may want to get something from your stocks when I am at home this year (or at any time) and will give any offer you have to make careful consideration.

My specialty is Washington and pattern pieces. My U. S. Mint series is quite full though I am on the lookout for a 1794 dollar. I assure you that I am and will always be glad to hear from you whether we come to a bargain or not.

Yours cordially
Edmund J. Cleveland

Cleveland

Washington

John Price

9/17/99

HARTFORD, CONN

SEP 8 1030 PM '01

Messrs S. H. & H. Chapman
1348 Pine street
Philadelphia Pa.

Cleveland, Edmund J.

June 14, 1902

[Cleveland asks for a catalog, despite being "prostrate ill,"]

June 14 1902

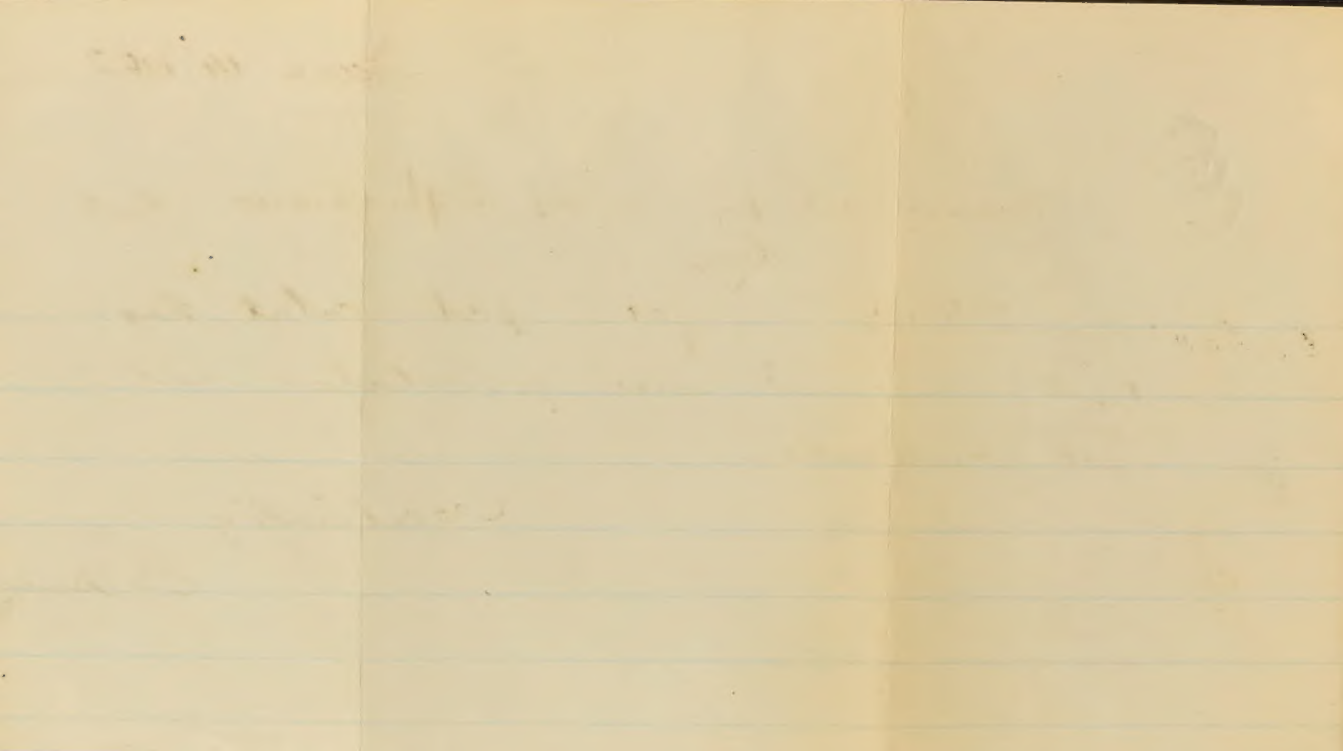

Messrs S H & H Chapman Gentls
Here is

75 c for paid: catal. May

1, 2. I am prostrate ill for 6 weeks

Cordially

Glendon

Cleveland &
75 of E

EDMUND J. CLEVELAND,
STOCK AND BOND BROKER,

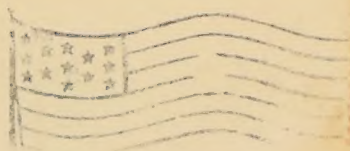

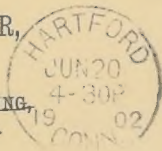

AND DEALER IN

INVESTMENT SECURITIES.

~~HARTFORD TRUST COMPANY BUILDING,~~

~~P. O. Box 485,~~ HARTFORD, CONN.

191 Sigourney

Messrs. S. H. & C. Chapman

*1348 Pine street
Philadelphia
Pa.*

RETURN IF NOT CALLED FOR IN FIVE DAYS.

Cleveland, Edmund J., Mrs.

June 26, 1902

[Edmund Cleveland's wife is writing in his stead, as he is "dangerously ill"
and unable to transact any business.]

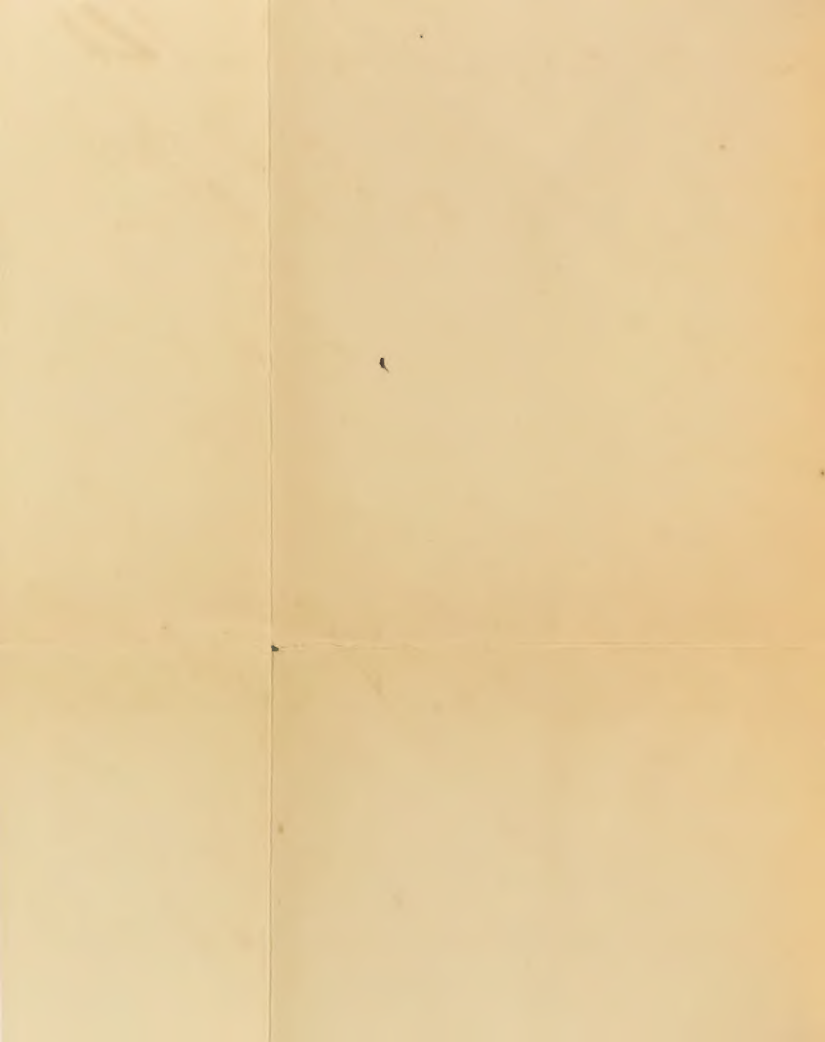

171 Lyning St

Hampford June 26.

To Mr S. H. H. Chapman.

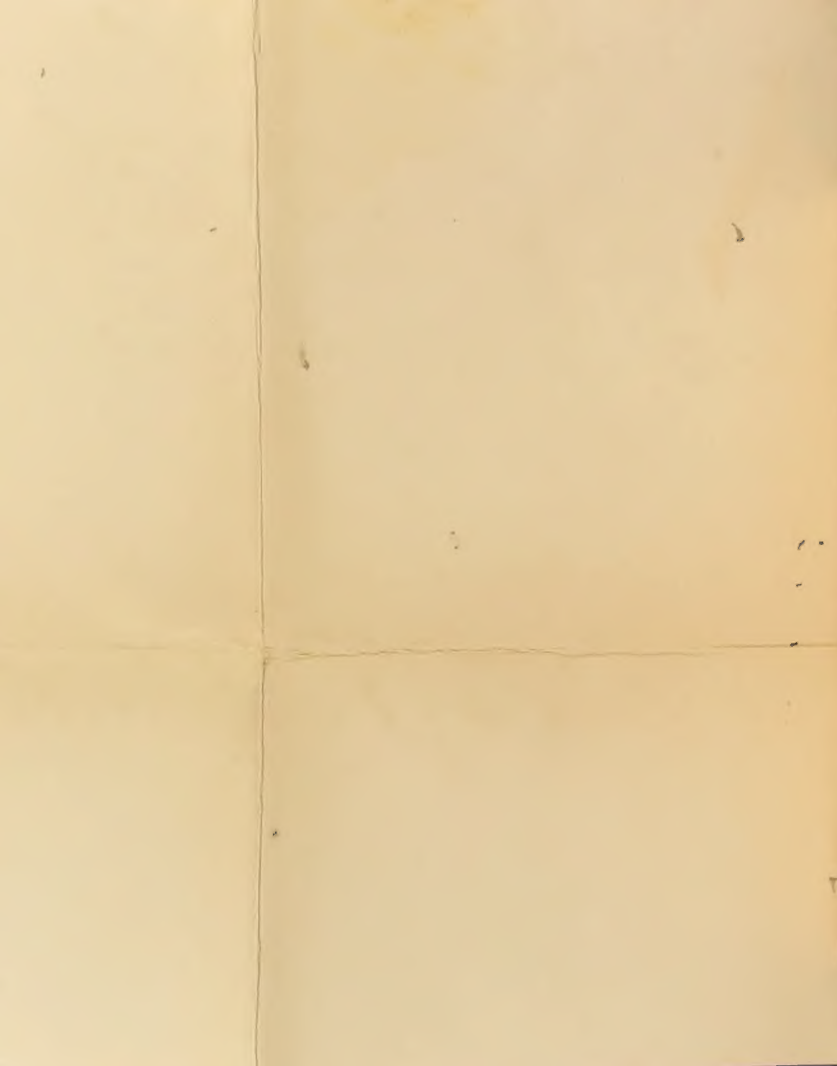

Dear Sir,

I am glad to Mr Chandl and, He is dangerously ill and utterly unable consequently to transact any business whatsoever. Please do not send anything to him as he cannot see it and be of course do not know anything about the matter. When he is able, if ever, he will attend to it.

Yours truly,
Mrs E. J. Chandler.

Mrs E J Cleveland

Mr C
Any ill do not send thing

Mr L. H. A. Chapman
1348 Pine Street
Philadelphia
Pa.